Chapter 1

And Moab rebelled against Israel, and the blood of Ahab was shed.
And Ahaziah fell from his throne in Samaria, and he was very angry, and he sent to Izgadin, and said to his father, "Seek him in Baal Zebub, the chief of Ekron, if he is a brother of the shepherds of Din."
And the angel of the Lord came to Elijah the prophet, saying, "Is not God the God of Israel? He has made a covenant with him, and he Elijah

And Izgadiah said to his wife, "What is the law of Tabutun?"
And they said to him, "Gabriel, go ahead of us and tell us, 'We have lost our good fortune, and we will send a messenger to the king, and we will be with him, and we will be with him.'" He said, "O God, who created the tabernacle of the Lord in Israel, you have sent a messenger to the people: Baal Zebub, the idol of Ekron, in the city of Arsa, you have destroyed Taman, and there will be no more death." Death
And on the night of Amnon, what is the custom of the Garba of the Salic to go before them? And on the night of Amnon, the son of Pithamiah the son of Eli: And they said to him, There is a man in the city of Saaran, and he hastened to Damascus, a prisoner in his prisons. And Elijah said, He is like a resident of Toshab, and he sent to his men fifty and fifty of his men, and he went to his men, and he answered on the head of the Torah and on the :A prophet from the land of the living God, King Malcha, from the night of the fire
And I will answer Elijah and say to him, "If a prophet like me comes, I will send down water from heaven and drink it: you and fifty with you, and you will drink water from heaven and eat it, and you will drink fifty with her King Malachi said, "I will answer Elijah and the night of Amnon, if you are a prophet like me, I will make you drink from heaven and eat your food and drink fifty times as much as you drink."

And he sent a large number of my fifty men and fifty women, and he took them and put them on his lap to receive Elijah, who came from before me and who was with me at night, a prophet as precious as my soul and my soul: Your servant, for fifty years, has brought down water from heaven and eaten the flesh of the rabbis. Fifty of the first and fifty of the last: and my soul was precious in thy sight.
And the angel of the Lord appeared to Elijah, saying, "Do not go out from before me." And he arose and went down with his people to the king.
And the people of Kidan said, "O my people, the land of Izgadin is gone, for example, in Baal Zebub, the law of Ekron, is there no God? The tabernacles of Sharia are seen in Israel. For example, in Pitgamyeh, in Ken Arsa, the land of Taman is not destroyed. Whence shall I be from the day of death, and die like Pitgamyeh, like the land of Elijah and King Jehoram?" In the year of the tenth month of Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and there was no son of Jehoshaphat.
And the rest of the acts of Ahaziah, which David did, are they not written in the book of the acts of Josiah king of Israel?

Chapter 2

And it came to pass, when the LORD was come unto Elijah in the valley of Shemaiah, that Elijah and Elisha went down from Gilgal. And Elijah said unto Elisha, Go, and I will send thee unto the house of God. And Elisha said, As thy soul liveth, I will surely bind thee, and bring thee into the house of God, and cut off the disciples of the prophets from the house of God. Elisha said to him, "Do you know that I am the Lord's servant?" He said, "I know that you are the one who will be judged."

And the disciples of the prophets who were at Jericho came to Elisha and said to him, "Do you know that I will judge you one day?" And I said, "I know that you will be silent."

And I said unto him, As the LORD liveth, and as thy soul liveth, if I shall not see thee, then thou shalt be satisfied: and fifty men of the sons of the prophets went down, and arose from a far country, and stood by the Jordan.
And Elijah turned to him, and said, "I will return and go, and I will

And it came to pass, as the LORD passed by, that Elijah said unto Elisha, Ask what I shall do for thee, that I may not speak with thee. And he said, Elisha, let there be a plague upon thee, and the spirit of prophecy shall be with thee. And he said, Achish, if thou seest that I am the prophet, and speak with thee, so shall it be unto thee; and if not, so shall it be. And it was so until the judgment of the LORD, from the beginning of time And there is a ritechin of the day and a ritechin of the day and a ritechin of the day: between the The fall of Mina and Tab and the rise of the Jordan River

And it came to pass, that the king of Israel, the son of David, fell down from the mountain, and said, O God, take away my sin: and the king of Israel, the son of David, the son of David, and
And the disciples of the prophets of Jericho saw me coming from Mabel and saying, "The spirit of Elijah is upon Elisha and upon him: Go before him, and worship him on the day of judgment."
And they said to him, "There is a man with you, fifty men of the sons of Helah. Let him go and see if your master, Dilma, has taken a spirit from before them. He will raise me up, one from Torah or one from Helah." And I said, "No, you shall not send."
And I will besiege him as far as Sagiah, and I will say, "Send him, and send fifty men, and let him go for a day, and I will not forget him." And I will send them to Lot, and he will return to Jericho, and I will say to Lot, "Didn't you say, 'Therefore do not be deceived?'" And the men of Kartah said to Elisha, "Is there not a man who lives in Kartah, Shapir, as my prophet Hazael and Maya Bishin did?" And it will happen.
Mitkalah: And he said, "Give me a piece of land, and

And he shall drink water until the day of judgment, according to the word of Elisha the prophet.
And he took a camel from the house of El, and he took it in a basket, and he washed it with a little water, and he took it out of a basket, and he played with it: and they said to him, "Sack of Karha, sack of Karha."
And I will turn to my back, and I will see and be seen in the land of Shema, and I will remove the thornbushes of the bear from Horsha and from Baz'a: from the fortieth of the city, and from the purest of the wild beasts: and I will remove from the east to the west of Carmel, and from the east to Samaria.

Chapter 3

And Jehoram the son of Ahab reigned over Israel in Samaria in the eighth year of Jehoshaphat king of the tribe of Judah, and reigned twenty years.
And Abad Debish will be a servant before me, not like my father and my mother, and I will rise up in the wilderness, and I will be my father's servant.
: Especially in the debts of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, Israel shall be bound, and shall not depart from it.
And Moses the king of Moab was a man of war, and he brought a hundred thousand to the king of Israel: a thousand thousand tores, a thousand thousand tores, and a thousand thousand tores.
And it came to pass, when Ahab died, that the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.
And King Jehoram took the king of Israel away from the city of Shimron, and all Israel with him.
And he sent to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, saying, King Melchizedek of Moab has rebelled against me, and has made war on me: and he said to Moab, "I will be like your people, my people like your people, my horses like your horses."
And I said in Idah, Orecha, draw near, and say, Orecha of the wilderness of Edom, and let the king of Israel, and the king of the tribe of Judah, and the king of Edom, and let him go to the king of Sheba seven days' journey: and there was no water for Mishrita, and for Beer-sheba for fear of him: and the king of Israel said, And I will go to the city of Telah, and the king of the house of Israel, and the king of the house of Edom And it came to pass, when the king of Israel saw the land of Moab, that Jehoshaphat said, "Is it not as if a prophet were lying in wait?" And he asked, "Is it because of the pit, which is lying in wait?" And one of the servants of the king of Israel said, "Elisha the son of Shaphat is lying in wait."
And Jehoshaphat said to his people, "Pithama Deia, and his wife I am the one who is hand of the LORD.

And you shall destroy all the surrounding fields, and all the rivers of Egypt, and all the rivers of Egypt, and all the springs of water: you shall stop them up, and all the storehouses that you have opened you shall fill with water.
And there was a trumpet in the city, as a trumpet in the city of Edom, and there was water in the valleys of Edom, and the valleys of Ara were filled with water, and all the Moabites heard of it, and the king of Assyria, Malchijah, a relative of Ben-hon, and he was appointed over all the prisoners of Siphah, and over Elah, and they rose up against the land.
And they went before him with a horn, and one day he landed on the water, and the Moabites saw the water of the well of the water of the well of the water of the well, and they said, It is blood, and it is not a cause for anger. It is a cause for anger, and Malchijah provoked him, and slew him, and the man of the house of his friends, and the anger of the Moabites was kindled against them.
And I will be the ruler of Israel, and Israel will rise up and destroy Moab, and will drive them out from before them, and will destroy them with a great slaughter: and they will destroy Moab, and will destroy all the cities of the Philistines They were poor and their necks and faces were covered.

And the king of Moab saw that the king of Edom had come to him from among his servants, and he spoke with his people, seven hundred mighty men of valor, the sons of Sheba: to the king of Edom he went out, and he could not prevail.
And the Lord said to him, "The Lord will come and destroy you, and you will be very angry with Israel, and they will be removed from it and will be destroyed forever."

Chapter 4

And you gave one of the women of the disciples of the prophets, a commandment before Elisha, to tell your servant Obadiah, the priest of Eli, and you know that your servant has been a long time in advance, because of the slaughter of Jezebel, the prophetess, and the word of Minhon, a hundred men, and Atmarinon fifty men, fifty men in Maratha, and Joseph was a forger and a murderer. To be rich rather than poor, to be From the Creator, from all that is in me, from the empty ones, do not belittle and prepare and fill your nose and your mouth with water, and pour it on all the people of the land and from where you have filled me: you will be removed.

And the fullness of her breasts and the agape of her breasts in the mouth and in the nose of her breasts, there is no sacrifice to her, and she is pure: Misha
And it was as if a manna had been poured out, and you said, "Bring me a pound of manna." And I said to her, "Bring me a pound of manna." And she stopped eating and became a sign and a prophet. And I said, "My poor servant, give me a pound of manna and pay my debts to my enemies, and you and your children will be free from the land of the Philistines."
And it came to pass in a day, that Elisha went to Shunem, and Taman, and there was a plague of leprosy, and a plague of leprosy in the land of Michal
And she said to Baal, "This is what we know, but the prophet is a holy prophet, and he is from the face of the altar, and he is a priest."
I will build a tower of the city of Zeira, and I will build a tower for it

And there was a day and a night for Teman, and a stranger for Eliphaz, and Teman lay down.
And I said to Gehazi, my lord, call the Shunammite, and call her, and she shall rise before me.
And I said to him, "Why do you deal with us? Give us every matter that concerns us. Why should I serve you? I will answer you: You will speak to Malcha or to Rab-Hela, and you will say, 'In the affairs of my people, I am well-pleased.'"
And I said to the servant of the temple, "What is this?" And Gehazi said to Cush the son of Leith, "You have made a covenant with her, and she has become a slave." And I said, "Call her, call her, and she will rise up in fear." And I said to Zimna, the judge, in the age of judgment, who will come and embrace the creature, and you will say to your neighbor, "My Lord, a prophet is like a prophet to me." Let not your servant lie in your truth.
And Adiah came and gave birth to a son at the appointed time, and it was at that time that Elisha arose with her.

And I said, "What is the matter with you? You have brought down a day without a moon or a Sabbath, and you have said, 'Peace.' And you have hastened and said to the world, 'A word has come down, and you have come down, and you have come down, and you have come down, and you have sent a prophet to the top of Carmel, and it was as if a prophet had seen a prophet, and he was accepted. And I said, 'Gehazi, Her world is like a Shunammite.

: As a ruhut as a ruhut to her front and I said to her peace be upon you peace be upon your master peace be upon Rabiah and you said peace and you signaled to the prophet Daya to the Torah and I attacked my feet and brought Gehazi to Midha and the prophet Daya said: I am a bitter soul and I am a bitter soul and from before you I will withdraw from me and not be afraid of me

And the woman said, "My Lord, did I not tell you, 'If you love me, my son, I will not try.'" And I said to Gehazi, "Put your hand in your mouth and turn the needle in your hand and spit. Then you will forget a man, and you will not ask about his welfare. And if a man asks about your welfare, you will not understand him. And I will put my needle on Rabia's nose." And you said, "I will not be afraid, but I will not be afraid." My mother, the Lord, is risen, and your soul lives, if I will take you, and arise, and go forth, and see, and go forth, and be like a rod of fire upon the nose of Rabiah, and a night of mourning, and a night of weeping, and a day of mourning: for her days are past, and her days are long, and her days are short, and her days are long

:And he went up and down in the midst of the fire, and his shadow was before him, and he lay down on Rabia, and he put his face on his face, and his eyes on his eyes, and his hands on his hands: And my God is high, and the heat in the wilderness of the wilderness, and the heat in the wilderness, and the heat in the wilderness, and the heat in the wilderness, and the heat in the wilderness, and the heat in the wilderness, and the heat in the wilderness, and the God is high, and I will make Rabia happy: Until seven days. And Rabbah opened the door of his house: and he called Gehazi, and said, Call this Shunammite. And he called her, and she beckoned before me. And he said, My grandfather blessed you.

And you fell down before my feet and worshiped me on the earth, and you became a lamb and gave it to me.

And they brought my servant and my wife near, and said to her, Mary, if you have seen a great prophet, you will not be a servant. And God said to you, "Baptize and go down and dip yourself in the Jordan for seven years, as the prophet saw, and you will be born in his house, as the prophet saw, and you will be born in his house, as the prophet saw, and he My servants came and stood before me and said, "Do you know that my lord the king has a law that is in effect in all the cities of the gods in Israel? And as for the law of the LORD, it is acceptable to you, because you have come near from your servant."

And I said, "Is it true that my hands are used before me? If I accept and I turn to the house of Kabbalah and do not come?"

And Naaman said, "Let not your servant be so vile as to offer a handful of the dust of Admah, but let not your servant serve me: for your servant will not offer an offering or a sacrifice to the people, to the God of Israel, to hearken unto me, to judge, and to execute judgment. Let your servant be brought up in the valley of my lord to the house of Rimmon, to the house of Taman, and he will be your servant upon my hand: and I will worship in the house of Rimmon." In the mosque of the house of Rimmon, O my servant, I will pour out my judgment upon you in the pit of judgment: and I will say to him, Peace is near, and the days of her companions are near.

And Gehazi, a disciple of the prophet Elisha, said, "How did my master prevent Naaman the Aramean from coming to Mekele? How can I be sure that he will not be killed?"

And Gehazi the son of Naaman pursued, and Naaman saw a great man, and he was clothed with a garment Dilbush And Naaman said, "Sir, I will go to Kirin and besiege it, and the king of Kirin will besiege it with silver, and I will go to the city of Kirin and will besiege it with silver, and I will go to the city of Dilbush, and I will go to the city of Ulimuhi, and I will go to the city of Kedamohi."

And when he had found a man, he went out of the house, and called the house of the LORD, and sent the messengers of the LORD, and they brought him, and he said, "Go, Elisha, and bring me Gehazi." And he said, "Your servant is not come." And he went.

And I said to her, "The spirit of prophecy has commanded me, 'You will exalt yourself above the waters of the sea, for your time is come. You will turn to the sea, and you will turn to the sea, and you will think in your heart for places of olives, and vineyards, and corn, and lentiles, and servants, and servants, and servants.'"

And the curse of Naaman shall cling to you and to your son forever, and my face shall be as pale as a scythe.

Chapter 6

And the disciples of the prophets said unto Elisha, Is there not a man that is as great as the sea? And I will go and see the sea before thee, and the sea shall flow unto us as far as the Jordan: and there shall come out of the sea a man as great as the sea, and a servant shall come to us, and the sea shall be as great as the sea of the sea. And I will tell him,

And one of the princes of Canaan said, "I will go down with your servant." And I said, "I will go down."

And I will bring him to the Jordan, and he will come to the end of Ai and Havva, and he will be one of the people of Basharitha, and I will replace him with Barzillai, and he will fall into the water and cry out, and I will say to him, "My Lord," and he will say, "Ask him." And I will say, "A prophet will fall, and I will hold him, and he will be found, and he will come to the end of Ai and will rise to Taman and freeze in Barzillai." And I will say, "Go, and I will stretch out my hands and surround him." And the king of Aram was a kinsman of Israel, and I reigned in my servitude, to the end of my days, to the end of my days, and to the end of my days: the house of my lord.

And the prophet Daya sent to Malcha king of Israel to Maimar Ishtamar from the city of Adra Hadin, a man from Taman: Aram Kasan. And Malcha king of Israel sent to Adra Di, saying to him, Prophet Daya, and warn him, and Ishtamar Taman, do not be afraid: Call us, and do not delay our call.

And Ishtar went to the king of Aram, to the place of judgment, and called his servant, and said to him, "Will you not come to me? Who is the king of Israel, and who is the son of Elisha the prophet in Israel?" And one of his servants said, "My lord, the king, is not Elisha the prophet in Israel?" The LORD said to the king of Israel, "Go to the place of judgment, and you will be buried in the house of your bed."

And Azil said, "And he saw that he was a warrior, and he sent and Edbrin, and he commanded him to go to the city of Dothan. And Taman sent Suswan, and Ratichin, and the captain of the guard, Sagian, and him in the night, and besieged him on the plain."

And the Akkadians used the worldly knowledge to their place and removed it, and there was a shield, Akifa, who had written a horse's name: and they prepared it, and said to their superiors, "In his presence, my Lord, I will certainly serve you."

And I said, "Do not rush to the lions of Saginaw, as if they were from their own kind."

And the shadow of Elisha went before them, and said, O Galilei Kean, the son of Aram And Elisha said unto Elisha, It is not lawful for me to go, nor for thee to read, saying, Go with me, and be a mourner, and be a man's companion: but let him be a lamb, and be a mourner, and be a man's companion, and be a Samaritan.

And the king said to her, What is the matter with you? And you said, "Give me this." And you said to me, "Bring me your wine and I will eat it on the same day." And you said to her, "Bring me your wine and I will eat it on the same day." And you said, "Bring me your wine and I will eat it." And you said, "Bring me your wine and I will eat it." And it was so. And King Malcha heard, "Give me this." And he was afraid. To my shame, and he passed over the council and saw the people: and he was a prisoner in the secret places of his kingdom.
And I said, "Likewise, my servant will serve me, and like Joseph, if Risha and Elisha son of Shaphat, may the Lord God judge me one day: Judge and Elisha will return to their homes, and Sheba will understand among his people, and send a mighty man before me until Izgadah comes to them." And he said to Sheba the seer, "Send Shelah son of Ketula, the judge, to the assembly, and Risha will be my judge." See: As the feet of Izgadah are united, and the law of the Lord is pressed down upon him, so are the feet of the Lord in the wilderness, until he is a man of peace, and Izgadah is seated on his throne, and he says, "This is what I have done before, what is it?"

And Elisha said, "They have received a great blessing from the Lord, and he said, 'I will give you a great reward tomorrow, and you will be a great reward in the land of Sila.'" And he said, "I will give you a great reward tomorrow, and you will be a great reward in the land of Sila, and you will be a great reward in the land of Sila. And I will give you Behold, I will not be able to contain you, and four men, and a man, and a woman And if we are killed and we are killed: And they stood in the direction of the king of Aram, and with him to the borders of the king of Aram, and there was a man in Taman, and from before them, I heard the king of Aram, the hawk, the hawk, the hawk of the hawk, and they said to the man: To her friends, the hawk of the king of Israel, the hawk of the kings of Hittites, and the hawk of the hawks. The kings of Egypt until the death of Elana

And they arose and poured out their blood in the Qiblah and they gathered their dwellings and their donkeys and their camels in the land as it is written: "And they poured out their blood to the Lord, that their souls might be saved."
And the men of the city of Sigiriya, as far as the borders of the city of Mashrita, went up to one lodging, and ate and drank, and went from Teman to Kaspa, and to Dahab, and to Lubushin, and they were exhausted, and they were drunk, and they were drunk, and they went up to the next lodging, and they were exhausted, and they were drunk.
And a man said to his companions, "It is not lawful for us to be a servant of the judge of the day in Sura, and if we were to be a servant of the judge of the day in Sura, we would be able to establish and multiply until the river Safra, and we would be able to sue for a debt and to be angry with him, and we would be able to lie down and live: the house of the king."
And they called him the Nether of the evil of Karta, and they called him the Fortune of the Athenian, the King of Aram, and he was the Night of Taman: a man and a man, a god, a horse, a captive, and a captive, and they lived as they were judged.
And he called the Nether-Taraaites, and called them the house of the king of Ge'u.
And King Malachi arose in the night and said to his servant Abdo, Ahavi Kaan, "Prepare for us a man who knows the language of Aram, and we will go and remove him from Masretah to Ithamar, to Hakla, to Maimar, if they remove him from Karta: and we will separate him as a living being, and Karta will be a success."
And I answered one of my servants, and said, And they shall speak as an ant of the fifth part of Suswathah, from Shaara, and shall be as the whole multitude of Israel They have reduced and reduced them in their journey to the Jordan, and all the people are full of shame, and they have made a man of Aram: when they went to Me'rak, they brought him to Izgadiah, and they made him king.

And it came to pass at the end of seven years, that Tabitha came from the land of the Philistines, and she gave her house to Michbal the king over her: and over her head.
And Malcha spent the night with Gehazi, a disciple of the prophet, saying, "I will tell you what I have heard from you, O king, and what is the law of the Lord?" And Elisha said, "And it was so, that he was my friend, and he said, "I will tell you what I have heard from you, O king, and what is the law of the Lord." And Malcha said, "I will tell you what I have heard from you, O king, and what is the law of the Lord." And Gehazi said, "My lord, Malcha, this is what you have heard from me, O king, and what is the law of the Lord." The days of Elisha and Saul, King Malachi, came to him and asked him, and from him King Malachi was taken away, and he said to him, "I will answer you, O king, and you will answer me
And Elisha went to Damascus, and Bar-Hadad king of Aram was very angry, and he commanded him to prophesy, saying, "You are a prophet like me until the day you die."
And the king said to Hazael, "In your hand you shall come near, and I will go down to the place of a prophet, and you shall follow the path of a pitimah." From there, to the place of the shepherds of the law, and Hazael went down to the place of her ancestors, and she shall come near in her hand, and all the good of Damascus shall be worth forty shekels of silver. And you shall come and stand before me, and I shall say, 'Blessed be the son of Hadad, Malka, king of Aram.'" Send me with you to Maimar the brother of Marhe: Judge: And I said to him, Elisha, I will tell you, O my God, and I will preserve you, O my God, from the death of death: And I will turn my face away and I will show you until I die, and the prophet will weep for me.
And Hazael said, "What is the law of my Lord in my weeping?" And I said, "Let us know that you will serve the children of Israel in a way that will make their enemies tremble with fear, and their oppressors you will kill with the sword, and their oppressors you will devour and their enemies you will be terrified of.
And Hazael said, "Why did your servant Caleb come? Why did I come to the servant of Pitham, the judge?" And Elisha said, "Please hold me, O king: You shall be king over Aram, and I will depart from the company of Elisha, and you shall go with the servants of your lords." And I said to him, "What did I say to you, Elisha?" And I said, "Tell me, O king: You shall live."
And it came to pass on the day of his death, that he took a piece of cloth, and dipped it in water, and spread it over his mouth, and died, and king

And Ahab's house was cut off by Orah, and Ebed-melech was the first to be put out of the house of Ahab, and he was the son-in-law of Ahab's daughter-in-law.
And Joram the son of Ahab went down to Agag, a kinsman of Hazael king of Aram, in the mountains of Gilead, and Macho the Syrian: and Joram's son, Melchah the Syrian, went to Jezreel, from Mahath-dimmoh the Syrian, in Ramah: and Agag, a kinsman of Hazael king of Aram, and Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of the tribe of Debir of Judah, came down to eat. When Jehoram son of Ahab was in Jezreel, he was a wicked shepherd.

Chapter 9

And Elisha the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets, and said unto him, Open thy bottle, and let there flow manna from Damascus, and it shall be in thine hand, and it shall be consumed in the mountains of Gilead.
And he went to Teman, and the prophet of Teman, Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat the son of Nimshi, and he went and took it from the land of Ahoh: and he went and took it from the land of Ahoh: and he went and took it from the land of Ahoh: and he went and took it from the land of Ahoh: and he went and took it from the land of Damascus, and took it from the land of Chidnan, and said, O destroyer of the king of Israel: and Dasha opened and poured out, and did not shut up.
And Eliam the son of a prophet, which was in the mountains of Gilead, came and said unto him, The children of Hela, and said, Put forth thy hand unto me, and say unto me, What is this that thou hast done? And the LORD said unto me, Go up, and stand up, and lay a wreath upon the pillars thereof, and say unto me, O God of Israel, who hast anointed thee to be king over a people like this? Upon Israel, and I will destroy the house of Ahab, your master, and I will avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all my servants, from the hand of Jezebel: and I will destroy all the house of Ahab, and I will give to Ahab knowledge and wisdom, and I will make him one in Israel: and I will make the house of Ahab like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and I will slay Baasha the son of Ahijah: and

And you will see a vision of righteousness and discipline from the sons of the Lord, and you will sit on the thrones of the kingdom of God, and you will see a battle: against the house of the Lord.
And they rejected one another and said, "Has Malchiah taught them that they will not be able to return to their former place, and that they will take revenge: I will come and send blood upon Bethah, and blood upon Kartha, and Seba, and Turbian, according to the word of your servant: I will come and all that your servant says, we will serve you, we will not make you a king, a man who is right in your eyes, a servant and a writer." The king of Igartha, the king of Memar, said, "If I were to die, I would die, and if I were to die, I would receive the inheritance of my father, the sons of Rabban, and they would give to me as Idana, the judge, tomorrow to Jezreel and the sons of Malcha, the son of Sheba, the son of Gabra: the leaders of Karta, the chief of the people, would be there, and it would be like the number of Igartha, the son of Malcha, and his word would be there." And they took Shebain Gabra and Shaviu Yat: they gave him the chief of Besaliah and Shadrin to go to Jezreel and Ata Izgada and Havi to go to Maimar Aitiya, the chief of the sons of Malcha, and said that he would be the chief of the Dgorin: in Ma'alana, it was a great sight to behold.
And the LORD blew a trumpet, and stood up, and said unto all the people of the land, Behold, I have rebelled against my Lord, and have slain them: and who shall slay all these?

Now the rest of the acts of Jehoahaz, and all that David and his mighty men did, are they not written in the book of the acts of Jehoiakim the kings of Israel?
And Jehoahaz slept with his fathers, and his grave was in Samaria: and king Joash reigned in his stead.
In the thirty-seventh year of Joash king of the half tribe of Judah, Jehoash son of Jehoahaz king of Israel took possession of Samaria for twenty-six years. And the service of Devas was before him, and he did not depart from all the duties of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who had made Israel to be a burden to Israel. And the remnant of the sins of Joash and all the servants and the mighty men of valor joined themselves with Amaziah. King of the tribe of Debir of Judah: There is no record of it in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel.
And Joash slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam sat on his throne, and Joash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel: and Elisha, the shepherd of the flock, was a man of blood in his house, and Joash, king of Israel, wept before his face: and my master said, my master, it is good for Israel in her calamities, from the potions and from the interpretations: and I said to her:
Elisha was the father of Keshta and Geraiah, and he went to the house of Keshta and Geraiah and said to the king of Israel, "Stretch out your hand over Keshta, and stretch out your hands, and Elisha, stretch out your hand over the hands of the king."
And he said, Open the door to Madinah, and open it, and Elisha said, "The Lord of hosts will be with us, and he will open the door from before, and the Lord of hosts will be with us, and we will be defeated by the Syrians, and we will be destroyed by the Syrians: from Aphek to Dishitzon: and he said,

And Jeroboam slept with his father, with the kings of Israel: and Zechariah the son of Zechariah reigned in his stead.

Chapter 15

In the twenty-seventh year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Azariah the son of Amaziah king of the tribe of Judah began to reign over Judah, and he reigned twenty-five years, and reigned twenty-two years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jechaliah of Jerusalem. And he served as a servant before him, according to all the service of Amaziah my father.
: Especially in the temple, there is no crown, even for the people who sacrifice and drink in the name of the Lord on the temple.
And the words of the LORD were written on the king's forehead, and he was a seal on the day of his death, and he sent a son from Jerusalem, and Jotham a son: the king was a fortress on the house of David, and the people of Daraa were afraid.
And the rest of the acts of Azariah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the acts of Jomiah the son of Jehoiakim the king of Judah.

And Azariah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David, and king Jotham his son: and in the year of his death, in the eighth year of the reign of Azariah king of the tribe of Judah, Zechariah the son of Jeroboam king of Israel reigned in Samaria over Israel, and Ebed-Babish reigned over Israel, according to the manner of David. My father did not turn aside from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin. But the rebellion of Elohim, the son of Jabesh, led him astray, and he destroyed the people and their slain, and the king of Tehuth. Now the rest of the acts of Zechariah, behold, they are written in the book of the acts of Jehoiakim the kings of Israel.

Chapter 17

In the year of the death of Ahaz king of the tribe of Judah, Hoshea son of Elah king of Samaria reigned over Israel: nine years.

And Abad Debish shall be a servant before him, not like the kings of Israel who were before him.

:God removed Shalmaneser, king of Assyria, and he was a servant to him, and he sent him to him, and he brought him near, and he brought him to him

And the king of Israel,

And it came to pass, when the children of Israel were in the wilderness, that the LORD their God delivered them out of the hand of Egypt by an hand: Pharaoh king of Egypt turned away from the way of the children of Israel, and cut off the way of the children of Israel from before them, and the kings of Israel served him, and said unto the children of Israel, It is not as it was before them. O God, build it for a possession in all its borders: from the great city of Takif to the great city of Kirvin, as in the wilderness: and I will set it for a possession, and I will sing for it upon every high place, and under every high place.

And I will make a sign of the Lord on every side of the altar of the Lord, and I will make a sign of the Lord on every side of the altar They have kept my commandments and my statutes, according to all that I have commanded you, which you have commanded your fathers, and which you have sent to them by the hand of my servants the prophets: but they have not received them, nor have they done them, as they have done to their fathers, and they have not done them in the sight of their gods, and they have not done them in the sight of their gods, and they have not done them in the sight of their fathers, and they have not done them in the sight of their gods, and they have not done them in the sight of their fathers. And the Sahaduts of the Dashids, who are wise and wise, and their daughters abode in the land of Norah, and they bewitched them with charms, and they bewitched them, and they made them a temple of idols: before they were brought to the city of Argosa, my father.

And the LORD was angry with them from before, and he destroyed the house of his tabernacle, and there was none left: the tribe of Judah was left alone: the tribe of Judah also did not purify themselves, but they did not keep the commandments of their God, and they were cut off from the borders of Israel, their servants.

And the end shall be in all the seed of Israel, and their desire and their secret, in the hand of the thief, even to the flag of the house of their tabernacles:

Then the house of Israel went up against the house of Judah, and made Jeroboam the son of Nebat king, and the children of Jeroboam: the house of Israel from the house of Pulchana, and the house of Chabin, and the house of Rabbah,

And the children of Israel were consumed with all the bondage of Jeroboam, whom David had made them serve; they departed not from him.

Until the banners of the Lord of Israel from Araunah to the house of His tabernacle, as He spoke by the hand of all His servants the prophets and His prophets: Israel from Araunah to Athur until the day of judgment.

And the words of King Malcha Dathor of Babylon, and of Michtha, and of Maavah, and of Machmath, and of Misparvaim, and he wrote in the walls of Samaria: The children of Israel passed over, and the city of Samaria burned him, and they burned him in the walls of Samaria.

And he gave good tidings to the inhabitants of Taman, that they should not enter from before, and that they should be destroyed in the land of Arivata: and that they should be destroyed in the land of Arivata.

Until the day that the judge did not make a slave, according to the customs of my predecessors, to enter from before them, and to make a slave, as they were circumcised, and

And the decree of the Lord is that there is no wealth, and the commandment of the Lord is not to enter into the deceit of the common people, nor to worship wealth: nor to worship or to worship wealth.

God, the God of the East, will come from the land of Egypt with a great army and a high mountain. You will enter it: and you will worship before it and on its altars you will worship, and you will make offerings and you will make offerings and you will make offerings and you will make offerings and you will make offerings and you will make offerings and you will make offerings, so that you will be a priest for the temple every day and you will not enter for the sake of the common people.

And the Lord will come, and you will not be afraid, nor will you enter into the deceit of the common people. God will come from before them, and he will restore them, he will be established from the hand of all the people of the land.

And they did not accept the gods as their ancestors had done, nor did they accept any slaves.

And behold, the people of the land entered before them, and the house of their fathers was a plowman, even in their houses and in their houses: in their houses as their fathers served, they were not slaves until the day of judgment.

Chapter 18

And it came to pass in the year of the tabernacle of the congregation of Hoshea the son of Elah, king of Israel, that Hezekiah the son of Ahaz, king of the tribe of Judah, the son of Asher, reigned fifteen years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Shem, the daughter of Zechariah.

And I will turn my face toward the wall of the holy house, and the shadow of my face shall be like a pillar.
Accept my request, O Adkar, for I have sent you a messenger before you with a pure heart and with a perfect mind, and I have sent you a messenger before you: and Hezekiah wept with the weeping of Sagiah.
And Isaiah did not leave the Lord alone, nor did he fulfill the prophecy of the Lord from before. And the Lord was with his people for a time.
And he said to Hezekiah, King Malcha of Judah, "O God of your father David, I have heard your prayer from before you: I have seen your tears from before you. I will bring you to the house of the sanctuary on the day of your death. I will add to your days fifteen years, and from the day of King Malcha of Judah I will make you a widow, and you shall be Karta Hada, unlike Maimri and unlike David Abdi
And Isaiah said, "Take a piece of the wall of the temple, and put it in the middle of the temple, and put it on the wall If the Asr prayer is answered,

And Hezekiah said, "Curse this, O king, that you have a son, a son of Asar, a son of She'in, a son of Ram, a son of She'in

And I will keep all the houses of my people, the houses of Kaspa, the houses of Dahab, the houses of Busmaniah, the houses of Misha Taba, the houses of Manoah, and all the houses of the people of Ishtacha in my people. There was never a shortage of stores: Hezekiah in his houses and in all his provinces.

And Isaiah the prophet went to King Hezekiah and said to him, "What did Gabriel the prophet say to you? Hezekiah said, 'I have brought you from Babylon.'" And he said, "What did they see in your house?" And Hezekiah said, "It is all in my house. They saw it not, it was not from time immemorial. I will keep it in my treasury." And Isaiah said, "What did they see in your house?" Hezekiah received a message from the Lord saying, "I will give you a day, and all your household goods will be taken away, and your father's house will be destroyed until the day of judgment, and he will be carried to Babylon. It will remain forever, says the Lord: "And from your own son they will raise up a son who will speak and be a teacher in the temple of the king of Babylon."
And Hezekiah said to Isaiah, "Repair the errors of the day of Malachi." And he said, "If peace and prosperity prevail, will there not be in my days the errors of Hezekiah, and all his might, and the work of the house of the LORD, and the house of the LORD, and the house of the LORD of hosts?" Read it in the book of the errors of the days of the kings of Judah.
And Hezekiah slept with his father, and king Manasseh reigned in his stead.

Chapter 21

The son of Tarta, the son of Manasseh, reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem, and his mother's name was Hephzibah.

And David served Ahab king of Israel, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and the children of Israel were in the land of Judah. And David served Ahab king of Israel, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and the children of Israel were in the land of Judah.
And I will give alms to all the host of heaven in the tabernacle of the sanctuary, saying, O Jerusalem, blessed is the place where I dwell. And I will give alms to all the host of heaven in the tabernacle of the sanctuary, saying, O Jerusalem, blessed is the place where I dwell.
And the sons of Beria passed by, and the sons of Anar, and the sons of Nachish, and the sons of Abad Forever

And I will not add to the trouble of the children of Israel from Araa Dihabi to Abahadun, especially if they are all scattered to the temple: you shall command them to be scattered, and for all you shall command them to be scattered to the temple by my servant Moses: and I will not accept and appoint Manasseh to be scattered from the Ammaiites, whom I have driven out before the children of Israel: and the word of the LORD is this: By the hand of my servant Abdo, the prophet to Memar, the son of David, king of the tribe of Judah, the daughter of Judah, the daughter of Abijah, the daughter of all his servants, the daughter of Amor, the daughter of Judah :Their eyes shall be cast down, and the Lord shall be gathered together, and they For all: Sanaihon
